[JULY, MDCCLXXIII.] [NUMB. 488.]

THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, JULY 27, 1773.

LONDON, MAY 10.

LETTERS from Cadiz mention, that an account is received there of an earthquake having happened in ſeveral of the Spaniſh iſlands in America, which had done conſiderable damage, and that a great number of perſons loſt their lives.

There are apartments already hired at Spa, in Germany, for the enſuing ſeaſon, for upwards of 150 Engliſh families.

Private letters from Holland adviſe, that all the ſpice-bearing ſhrubs carried by the French emiſſaries from Ceylon, and planted near the iſland of Mauritius by the French, in order to partake of the profits of that commodity with Holland, have been by the Dutch emiſſaries entirely deſtroyed.

By recent advices from Copenhagen, we learn, that his Daniſh Majeſty has lately been troubled with a great dejection of ſpirits and deſpondency of mind, attended with very dangerous ſymptoms.

Several plans for improving upon our manner of ſhip-building are at preſent under the conſideration of the Lords of the Admiralty, who have ordered ſome models to be made, that the propoſed improvements may be ſeen to more advantage than they poſſibly can be in the draughts.

MAY 12. Advices from Genoa, mention a recent inſurrection there, which was happily quelled without any blood-ſhed.

Extract of a letter from Madrid, April 6.

"Advices have juſt been received here from the Viceroy of Mexico, that a plague, of a very malignant nature, had broke out in that city, and the contiguous country. It had made its appearance but ſix days before the advices were dated; and ſuch were the fatal effects of it, that above 30,000 Spaniards, Meſtizos, Indians, and Negroes were then dead."

Whatever reports may be circulated to the contary, it is now certain that the Courts of Great-Britain and Pruſſia perfectly underſtand one another, and, inſtead of enemies, mean to act as friends and allies in all continental matters.

It is whiſpered that a certain ſovereignty has been tendered to a younger brother of royalty, belonging to a certain Court, but that, for very prudent reaſons, it has been refuſed.

MAY 13. Some letters from Liſbon mention, that a rupture between Portugal and Spain is much apprehended there, in conſequence of ſome unfavourable advices which have lately been received from Madrid.

Sunday a lady, who had eloped from her huſband, and carried off about 1500l. in caſh, beſides trinkets, &c. was ſtopped at Dover by two meſſengers, who were diſpatched by Sir John Fielding for that purpoſe, juſt as ſhe was on the point of embarking with a French hair-dreſſer on board the packet for Calais, and brought back the ſame evening to the Fountain tavern in Canterbury, on her way to London.

The Dutch navy has not been in ſuch a reſpectable condition ſince the peace of Utrecht as at preſent. This is looked upon by ſeveral able politicians as no ſure indication of any long continuance of the public tranquility.

The very reſpectable footing the naval and military force of the United Provinces have been lately put on, has, it is ſaid, given great umbrage to a certain northern Potentate and near neighbour.

MAY 17. An evening paper of Saturday laſt ſays, a foreigner of high rank (the French Ambaſſador) was detected laſt week at Portſmouth taking a view of the works in diſguiſe. He had been invited to dine on board a man of war, with ſome Engliſh nobility, but excuſed himſelf on pretence of being fatigued with the journey, when he took that opportunity of going round the fortifications in a boat without any attendants.

It was a ſtale fineſſe of the French, when we demanded the reaſon of their fitting out a fleet in time of peace, to return for anſwer, that the equipment was only for a ſhort excurſion, merely to exerciſe their ſeamen. Were our Miniſtry to purſue the ſame piece of policy, the nation would not murmur at the expence, which may be made many ways by ſtate œconomy, in retrenching the vaſt expences yearly miſapplied, and laviſhly ſquandered.

MAY 18. A perſon who pretends to ſpeak from good authority, ſays that the apparent inſtability in our Counſels, relative to the affairs of the Continent, does not ariſe ſo much from the variable meaſures purſued by the powers with whom we treat, as the irreconcilable difference of ſentiment which alternately prevails in the Cabinet.

It is certain, that ſince the late peace, Spain has built and repaired a formidable fleet, all well manned, their troops are upon a good footing, her fortifications at home and abroad repaired, and Spain has leſs debts, and more caſh and credit than any power in Europe; it is thought ſhe will try to take her revenge for the loſs of her reputation for theſe thirteen years. The people in general are very anxious to know the event of the preſent ſituation of affairs, which is likely to involve all Europe in war.

A correſpondent obſerves, how much wiſer were the Cornuta of old to thoſe of modern times! inſtead of tilting at a Horner for the wrongs done them by a whore of a wife, a great man in France (no leſs a Perſonage than a prime Miniſter) once in a time, (as the ſtory tells) ſurprized his "Fair Defect," the virtuous wife of his boſom, in bed with a gallant, locked faſt in his arms, and aſleep; but inſtead of pinning the honeſt pair together on the ſpot, as they deſerved, or challenging and running the gallant through the guts afterwards, the wiſe man, whoſe misfortune it was to be cornuted, contented himſelf with only gently waking, and cooly deſiring the lovers to get up, compoſe and dreſs themſelves; and then, in preſence of all his ſervants, deſired of the gallant only to be fairly informed by what means he obtained ſo great a favour from his Virtuous Dear! The gallant thinking it a fair and honeſt queſtion, frankly replied, the means were "an hundred Louis d'ors."----An hundred Louis d'ors? (quoth the huſband in a ſurprize) that is a great price indeed; and pray, Sir, where is the money? In the Lady's pocket (replied the gallant) upon which, turning to his fair one, Pray, my dear, where are your pockets? Upon being produced, an hundred Louis d'ors ſure enough appeared; then telling them over one by one, "There, Sir, is ninety-nine of them back again for you, Mr. Horner; and there, madam, is one for you ---enough for any whore in Chriſtendom---I will have no man impoſed on in my houſe;" and then turning his ſweet dear out of doors, ſet an example for all wiſe men, alike dignified, to follow.

MAY 20. It is ſaid that the expence of equipping the naval armament, which is to end in nothing, amounts, at the moſt moderate computation, to upwards of 200,000l.

Saturday a Papermaker bargained for a parcel of paper to a conſiderable amount with a Stationer in the neighbourhood of Lombard Street, and, after he had gone about half an hour, he returned, begging the Stationer to let him have twenty guineas directly, for he had laid a wager with ſome chaps at a public houſe, that he could ſhew that ſum.---The Stationer very judiciouſly cautioned him againſt returning with the money, as he had certainly got among ſharpers, but as he had left a guinea in their hands it was agreed that the Stationer's Clerk ſhould go along with him; when the ſharpers ſaw another perſon with the Papermaker, they avoided coming to the buſineſs, and ſlipped off one by one, leaving the Papermaker to reflect that he loſt one guinea by his own folly, and had ſaved nineteen by following the advice of his good friend and cuſtomer the Stationer.

On Tueſday evening nine women, one dreſſed in the uniform of a Captain of a man of war, another like a lieutenant, and the other ſeven in the dreſs of common Sailors, with cockades, &c. went about this city as a preſs gang, and frightened ſeveral young fellows, who ran from them; but at length the pretended Lieutenant was taken into cuſtody, and yeſterday carried before Alderman Trecothick, at Guildhall; when on her declaring that their appearing in that manner was only to ſee how many young fellows they could frighten, which were many, but not with any bad deſign, and promiſing not to be guilty of the like for the future, ſhe was diſmiſſed with a reprimand.

MAY 22. The King of Pruſſia has an army of two hundred and forty-ſeven thouſand fighting men. How is ſuch a large body of troops to be cloathed, fed, and paid? Either by the ruin of his ſubjects, or by letting them ſeize, plunder, and deſtroy the territories of neighbouring Princes. The Monarch who keeps up a large ſtanding army in times of peace, tells all the world he deſigns to find an enemy whenever he pleaſes.

The firſt Lord of the Admiralty has been down at Portſmouth to review the fleet, and to the great joy of his convivial friends, is returned ſafe to London. Tho' he was not expected, he found every thing in perfect order, nor was there in the whole fleet ſo much as a ſingle rope out of its place. His Lordſhip was highly pleaſed at the alacrity and ſpirit which the men diſcovered in preparing the ſhips for their reſpective docks, where they are to lie ſnug and quiet, ſafe and ſecure from ſtorms and bullets, until another review is thought neceſſary, or again to amuſe the people, with a ſtory of a war with France and Spain, of giving bounty money for the encouragement of ſeamen that are not wanted, and ſuch incoherent nonſenſe; then the ſhips will be again put in commiſſion; and then-----What then? why then Lord Sandwich will hurry down to Portſmouth, and then-----What then? why then he will hurry back again. O Tempora! O Mores!

By letters from Holland we learn, than an illuſtrious German Prince has entered into the ſervice of the Pruſſian monarch, and that he is to command in chief.

Lord Clive made a very ſenſible ſpeech, on Monday in the Houſe of Commons, and had very great attention ſhewn him by the Houſe; towards the concluſion, he told them, that ſhould the Houſe be diſpoſed to take away his fortune, he ſtill had a ſmall paternal eſtate which they could not touch; that he would retire into the country and live retired, ſatisfied within himſelf that he had done juſtice to all mankind; and finiſhed with ſaying "he had but one thing more to deſire, which was, That whenever that honourable Houſe came to decide upon his honour, they would not forget their own."

A motion was made in the Houſe of Commons on Tueſday laſt for the admiſſion of Iriſh Members, and the ſons of Eng. ones, into the gallery, which paſſed in the negative.

The Peggy, Thompſon, from Clyde to France, with tobacco, is totally loſt, and all the crew periſhed.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, May 10.

"There is now depending, before the Superior-Council of Clermont, a cauſe not a little diverting, though of a very ſingular nature. A perſon travelling in that part of the country, took up his lodging at an inn, where he was found next morning ſenſeleſs, ſtiff, and cold; and in ſhort, in ſuch a ſtate as permitted not the leaſt doubt of his being dead. The parſon of the place being informed of the affair, went to the inn, and ſent for a Notary to take an inventory of the traveller's effects. An hundred louis-d'ors were found in his portmanteau, which the Notary depoſited in the parſon's hands. The latter thought the money could not be put to a better uſe than expending it on the ſtranger's funeral obſequies: accordingly, he made preparations for a grand burial, to which he invited all the prieſts in the neighbouring villages, forgetting not the opportunity to regale them, and conſequently ordering a ſumptuous entertainment: but juſt as they were going to proceed to the ceremony, the ſuppoſed dead man ſhewed ſigns of life, and ſoon recovered from his trance; when the firſt words he uttered were to aſk for his portmanteau. The aſtoniſhed parſon related to him what had paſſed; but the man, regardleſs of the honour which the good prieſt intended to have paid to his memory, and refuſing to partake of the feaſt which was prepared, inſiſted upon having his money. The parſon told him, it had been employed on his account, and that it was impoſſible for him to return it.--This odd adventure has occaſioned a law-ſuit, the deciſion of which is impatiently expected."

MAY 24. In the courſe of laſt fortnight upwards of twenty General Officers have ſet out to join their regiments in Ireland, among whom are the Lords Ligonier, Percy, and Ferrers.

Orders are ſent to the Governors of Jerſey and Guernſey for thoſe iſlands to be forthwith put in a proper ſtate of defence, and for the Crown Engineers to take draughts thereof.

By a Dutch ſhip juſt arrived from the Eaſt-Indies, an account is received, that the French are making very great preparations at the iſlands of Mauritius and Bourbon, and that numbers of French troops have arrived there lately from Europe.

The bill to amend and enforce the ſeveral laws now in being for preventing the infamous practice of ſtock-jobbing, and other ſpecies of gaming, is ordered to be tranſmitted to a ſelect committee.

The ſhips at Spithead are manned and provided with proviſions of all kinds, complete for ſix months, and are ready to ſail on the ſhorteſt notice.

Laſt night a cabinet council was held at Lord Rochford's office in Cleveland-row, at which the Lord Chancellor and the great officers of ſtate aſſiſted, and did not break up 'till near twelve o'clock. And this morning the Lord Chancellor, and the Earls of Rochford and Suffolk had the honour of a long conference with his Majeſty at the Queen's palace.

The following fact, which is ſaid (in a morning paper) to be known to many Gentlemen now in England, will ſufficiently illuſtrate the mild humanity of Surajah Dowlah, ſo highly celebrated by ſome Orators. The year before Surajah Dowlah ſucceeded his grandfather, about the time of thoſe aſſaſſinations which removed every obſtacle to his ſucceſſion, he happened one day to be taking a view of the river, when a boat appeared in ſight filled with 150 perſons, men, women, and children. A thought occurred to the tyrant, that theſe unhappy wretches ſtruggling for their lives might afford ſome diverſion to his company, and he immediately ordered the boat to be ſunk, by which inhuman frolic near forty perſons periſhed before his eyes. Surajah Dowlah ſeemed greatly delighted with the ridiculous appearance of theſe wretches in the river, and the various expreſſions of their diſtreſs.

Letters from Trowbridge, in Wiltſhire, mention the death of William Temple, Eſq; who has left Mr. Wilkes 500l.

LEGHORN, April 21. We have received advice, that the French frigates which are cruiſing in the Archipelago, have ſunk ſeveral corſairs there. We are alſo informed, that one of thoſe frigates convoying ſix ſhips of their own nation, met with three Ruſſian frigates, and being unwilling that the latter ſhould ſearch them, a cannonade enſued, which ended in favour of the French ſhips, who afterwards purſued their route.

PARIS, April 26. An Engliſh Nobleman being lately charmed with the talents and beauty of a young actreſs, whom he knew to be very diſcreet, to reward and encourage her virtue, he wrote her the following letter:

"It is ſaid you are chaſte, and have formed a reſolution of continuing ſo; this is excellent and new for the preſent age. I exhort you never to change. I beg your acceptance of the deed which I now ſend you; it will entitle you to fifty guineas per month as long as this fancy ſhall laſt. If, by chance, you ſhould change your mind, I aſk the preference, and will give you a hundred." This laſt propoſal is very capable of ſhaking the firmeſt mind; the anſwer of this actreſs to the nobleman is not yet known.

VIENNA, April 28. His Imperial Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint General Elrichſhauſen to be Commander General in Moravia, General d'Ayaſſaſſa to be Commander General in Hungary, and General Matheiſen to be Commander General in Sclavonia; and alſo to make ſeveral military promotions.

HAGUE, May 7. The Dutch Eaſt India Company have received an account, by the firſt ſhip of their homeward bound fleet, juſt arrived in the Texel, that a moſt terrible earthquake had ſwallowed up a great part of a mountain upon the coaſt of Sumatra, above a league in length, and deſtroyed between two and three thouſand inhabitants, with all their cattle, plantations, &c. and that the fire, which iſſued out of the earth, had been ſeen at a very great diſtance at ſea.

WARSAW, April 28. The King ſigned the act of confederacy the 22d inſtant, and 24 hours after Prince Czartoriſki, and Grand Chancellor of Lithuania, and Prince Lubomirſki, Grand Marſhal, with 24 Senators, followed his Majeſty's example.

The laſt letters from Moldavia inform us, that Field Marſhal Count de Romanzoff had received orders from Peterſburgh to recommence the operations againſt the Turks, and to paſs the Danube at the head of his army; but that General hath repreſented to the Court, that it was impoſſible for him to do ſo at preſent, on account of the great drought which prevails in the countries, where there is an abſolute want of forage; but that in the mean time he will ſend ſome detachments to the other ſide of the ſaid river.

PARIS, May 7. Sailors and Mates are ſtill raiſing at Marſeilles for the ſervice of the ſquadron arming at Toulon. No French ſhip is permitted to leave that port, and 200 bakers are employed night and day in the arſenal, in making biſcuits.

TANGIER, April 14. On Monday laſt, between five and ſix in the morning, we were alarmed by a very violent ſhock of an earthquake, which laſted about two minutes, has deſtroyed 98 houſes, and ſhaken the town ſo much, that the remaining houſes muſt be rebuilt. We hear of only three lives loſt; but numbers of the inhabitants have been dragged from under the ruins very much bruiſed. Yeſterday about half an hour after eleven we felt another ſhock, though not ſo violent as the former.

PETERSBURGH, April 20. On Saturday laſt the Empreſs was pleaſed to admit all the Foreign Miniſters to the honour of dining and paſſing the whole day with her, at a building called the Hermitage; to which the Miniſters of the Council were likewiſe invited. Two tables were provided for the company; the Empreſs preſided at one, and the Grand Duke at the other; and the places were ballotted for. In the evening, the company being increaſed, there was a ball, which her Imperial Majeſty was pleaſed to honour with her preſence, and afterwards a ſupper. During the whole of the entertainment, her imperial Majeſty gave every proof of affability and condeſcenſion.

LISBON, April 3. Yeſterday, about five o'clock in the morning, ſeveral ſhocks of earthquake were felt here, which occaſioned ſuch a conſternation in this Capital, that moſt of the inhabitants left the churches and houſes, and fled to the fields; but happily no damage enſued from theſe concuſſions.

MADRID, April 19. The 13th of this month we felt here two ſhocks of earthquake, which laſted one minute, but happily did no damage. The ſame ſhocks were alſo felt at Cadiz, but we do not hear that the ſea was agitated by them.

AMSTERDAM, May 10. Letters from Batavia of the 16th of September laſt, adviſe, that on the 12th of Auguſt they obſerved at midnight a bright cloud that covered the mountain in the diſtrict of Cheribon, and that at the ſame time ſeveral reports were heard, like thoſe of a gun; that the people who dwelt on the top, and at the foot of the mountain, not having been able to fly faſt enough, a great part, of almoſt three leagues in circumference, detached itſelf under them; that afterwards it was ſeen riſing and falling like the rolling waves of the ſea, and emit globes of fire ſo luminous, that they were ſeen from afar, and rendered the night as clear as day; that the loſs occaſioned by this phænomena were the more conſiderable and melancholy, as 2140 perſons, both foreigners as well as natives, loſt their lives; that 1500 head of cattle periſhed, and a great number of horſes, goats, and fowls of every kind; that 39 negro habitations were deſtroyed; the plantations of coffee, indico, &c. buried in the earth; that in the diſtrict Paninbam, where this mountain is ſituated, there remained only a fifth part of its inhabitants, and that the deveſtation occaſioned by this accident, was felt at the diſtance of ſeven leagues round.

NEW-LONDON, May 14.

Laſt Saturday a brig bound to Boſton, loaded with melaſſes, was ſtopped by one of the cruiſers lying at Fiſher's Iſland. Who, after taking out all the people but one, and at dead of night mooring the brig in the open ſound, ſent a Boat to the Collector to know if ſhe was a lawful prize; and being informed ſhe was not, ſent the people on board again, after robbing them of 2 duffil great coats, a pair of duffil trouſers, and 3 pillow caſes. After this feat, the cruiſers proceeded to the entrance of New-London harbour, where meeting with a poor Oyſterman, in an old boat, not worth £. 10---which, with about 30 buſhels of oyſters on board, was all he was worth, they aſſail'd him with a volley of curſes and abuſive epithets,---damn'd raſcal, ſcoundrel, &c. ordering him, on pain of damnation, to ſtrike and come along ſide.---He, unwilling to be damn'd, and unable to reſiſt, obey'd, and they, after detaining him ſome time, and taking from him 5 buſhels of oyſters, were graciouſly pleaſed to diſmiſs him. Theſe vigilant intriped ſons of war, next day, ſeeing a two maſt boat, wherein were two boys (the eldeſt 16) enter the harbour, they brought her to, and demanded her papers, at the ſame time keeping up a conſtant diſcharge of oaths and execrations. Finding the boys did not underſtand the nature of their demand, they proceeded for better intelligence to the examination of a caſk on board, which proved to be full of currant wine, a preſent from a gentleman in New Haven to his friend. After emptying the caſk of half its contents, they diſmiſſed the boys, and lay upon the watch for more prizes and adventures. The next that appeared was a ſloop from Long-Iſland, Capt. Vail (upwards of 60 years of age) maſter-----Him they order'd to bring to, let go his anchor, and come on board; he obey'd as ſoon as he could, while they to haſten him, fir'd ſeveral ſhot at him after he had dropped anchor. When he got on board the cruiſer, the Captain (Howe) politely welcomed him with a great many terms of abuſe, and imprecations of damnation---and at laſt with a ſtroke in the face with his fiſt---This laſt compliment, Capt. Vail, who is really a man of good breeding and ſpirit, thought himſelf obliged to make a ſuitible return to, which he did ſo effectually, that Captain Howe, unable to ſtand it, fell and kiſſed the deck---He roſe, however, at length---and called for piſtols---but on ſecond thoughts laid them aſide, and ordered his bruiſer to take the place he was unable to maintain, and as maſter of the ceremonies, in his ſtead, to entertain Captain Vail as he would have done himſelf had he been able. The bruiſer it ſeems, in his notions of honour and decorum, differed from his ſuperior, and refuſed to officiate.-------Captain Vail was ſoon after permitted to return to his veſſel, which was only in ballaſt, and proceeded on his buſineſs.

NEW-YORK, JUNE 21.

His Excellency General Haldimand has appointed Captain Hutchinſon his Secretary, and Lieutenant Brehm, his Aid-de-Camp, both of the 60th regiment.

Thurſday laſt the tranſport ſhip Brudenel, Captain Hudſon, arrived here from Falmouth, with the remainder of his Majeſty's 23d, or Royal Welch Fuzileers.

JUNE 24. A letter from Glaſgow dated April 5, to a Gentleman in Virginia, gives a moſt diſmal account of the ſtate of trade, manufactories, and buſineſs of all kinds, in Scotland, occaſioned by the late failures in England, and in Holland; that a general diſtruſt, among all ranks, prevails; that mechanicks are without employment; a numerous poor in the utmoſt diſtreſs; trade in all its branches on the decline, particularly the tobacco-trade, by which thoſe concerned have had immenſe loſſes, as the importers of tobacco cannot ſell it at near the firſt coſt.

JUNE 28. Thurſday the 17th inſtant, the houſe of Colonel Guy Johnſon, at Guy-Park, was ſet on fire by a flaſh of lightning, and entirely conſumed, with all the furniture, caſh, and many valuable manuſcripts and drawings, of great moment to the public, as well as of the utmoſt importance to the Colonel.

We have received the melancholy news, that Sir William Johnſon, Baronet, lay dangerouſly ill at his houſe; and that the Colonel and his Lady attended Sir William during the time of the above unfortunate event.

JULY 1. Yeſterday morning his Majeſty's 23d regiment of Welch Fuzileers lately arrived from England, under the command of Col. Bernard, was, in the plain, near the ſhip yards, reviewed by his Excellency General Haldimand, in preſence of his Excellency the Governor, on which occaſion moſt of the Gentlemen of diſtinction, in town, and a great multitude of all ranks attended, and were highly delighted, as well with the fine appearance of the men, as with the beautiful exactneſs, and great variety of their motions, to anſwer the ſeveral occaſions of military ſervice. The ſoldiers wore ſprigs of oak leaves in their hats, which we hear diſtinguiſhed them at the battle of Minden, in which, under Prince Ferdinand, this regiment greatly diſtinguiſhed themſelves, and tho' they ſuffered ſeverely in the conflict, greatly contributed to the glorious victory of that day.

PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 16.

Since our laſt arrived here the ſhip Minerva, Captain Faries, with 300 paſſengers, and the brig Charlotte, Captain Montgomery, with 150 paſſengers, both from Newry.

We hear from Ireland, that the great emigrations to America has ſo worked on the minds of the landlords, that they are raiſing the rents of their lands to induce the people to ſtay at home.

JUNE 23. Laſt week two men were taken up at Potts-Grove, and committed to the gaol of this city, for attempting to utter counterfeit Maryland eight dollar bills; on ſearching, eighty of thoſe bills were found about them. Theſe men were but juſt arrived from Ireland, and ſince their commitment their cheſts were ſearched on board the ſhip that brought them, when 874 more of the ſame bills were found therein.

ANNAPOLIS, JUNE 17.

The General Aſſembly of this province met here on Tueſday laſt, when his Excellency the Governor opened the ſeſſions with a ſpeech, wherein he informed the Houſe, that Mr. Harford, who had ſucceeded Lord Baltimore to the proprietorſhip of that province, had with his Majeſty's approbation continued him Governor .----That, though the good of the province required ſeveral laws to be made; yet as the ſeaſon might be inconvenient,---if it would be more agreeable to the Aſſembly, he would prorogue them to another time.

Thurſday and Friday the 10th and 11th inſtant, it was remarkably cold; in Baltimore and Frederick counties, there was a conſiderable fall of ſnow, ſucceeded by a ſmart froſt, which greatly hurt the corn and tobacco.

CHARLES-TOWN, JULY 27.

A Barbarous Murder has lately been perpetrated on Two of the Cherokee Indians, of which we have received the following Particulars: When the Cherokees were returning home from the late Treaty at Auguſta, a Party of them encamped on the North Side of Broad River, Two of whom the next Morning, without their Guns or March Coats, croſſed the River, and went to the Houſe of one John Collins, who, at that Time was from home.----His Son Hezekiah Collins, received them ſeemingly in a friendly Manner, and ordered a Woman in the Houſe to ſet Victuals before them, which being done, and the Indians having begun to eat, the ſaid Collins, without the leaſt Provocation given, took the Opportunity of ſhooting them both at one Shot. Not long after, the Father came home, who aſſiſted his Son in conveying them to the River, into which, after tying them together by the Necks with a Rope, and a large Stone at the End thereof, they ſunk them. Their Companions, after waiting for them a conſiderable Time, ſet off for Toogoloo: They waited at home about Three Days with great Impatience, hourly expecting their Friends, when they began to be very uneaſy, and to threaten Vengeance. An Indian Woman informed the white Traders what was meditating againſt them, who had the good Fortune to make their Eſcape in the Night. Mr. Cameron, Deputy Superintendant of Indian Affairs, has diſpatched Meſſengers to the Indians, informing them that every Step ſhall be taken to apprehend the Murderer, who, on Conviction, ſhall be puniſhed with Death. The Father is apprehended, and Mr. Cameron has offered a Reward of Two Hundred Pounds for apprehending the Son, and ſeveral Parties are ſent out after him. The People in the back Settlements are much alarmed, while at the ſame Time, many of them applaud Collins's Action. The Warriors and Headmen of the lower Towns, have informed the Meſſengers, that they will allow a reaſonable Time for apprehending the Murderer, but that they expect Juſtice to be done agreeable to Treaty. The Cherokees look on this Murder as peculiarly aggravating to them, as it was committed in a Houſe built on Lands which belonged to them immediately before the preſent Ceſſion.

On Friday laſt arrived the Brig Betſey, Captain Schermerhorn, from New-York, in whom came Paſſengers Mr. Douglas, Manager of the American Company of Comedians, who we hear, propoſes to erect a Theatre here; Mr. Marſchalk, and ſome others.

On Sunday laſt embarked for England, in the Eagle Packet-Boat, Captain William Nicholls, the Honourable John Gambier, Lieutenant-Governor of the Bahama-Iſlands, and Mr. John Lloyd, of this Town, Merchant, with Mrs. Lloyd. Mr. Gambier was ſaluted by the Forts as the Packet fell down into Rebellion-Road, where ſhe remains Windbound.

DIED, At his Houſe near Aſhepoo, Dr. Willploy.---In this Town, Mrs. Fley, Wife of Mr. Samuel Fley.----Mrs. Smith, Wife of Mr. Thomas Smith, of Elliott-ſtreet.---Mrs. Hughes, Wife of Mr. John Hughes.
